Communication to the next of kin of casualties due to enemy action among the civil employees of the Central Government.

I am directed to say that it has been arranged that the Civil Defence Department of the Government of India will collect reports of casualties due to enemy action among the civil employees of the Central Government and will pass it on to the Department concerned for communication to the next of kin. In order to enable the Civil Defence Department to obtain this information it is requested that if there be no objection instructions may kindly be issued to District Officers or some other suitable authority who may be prescribed by the Provincial Government for collecting information of casualties to send information about the name and designation of the casualty, and the date and place to the Civil Defence Department as soon as may be practicable.

(This procedure will not apply to employees under your administrative control in whose case arrangements may be made for the collection of information and communication to the next of kin direct by you).

... Chief Commissioners only.

Copy of letter No.176/42-Establishments dated the 23rd September 1942 from the Government of India, Home Department, to all Provincial Governments and Chief Commissioners.

Communication to the next of kin of casualties due to enemy action among Railway employees.

I am directed to say that the procedure outlined in the Home Department letter No.1518-D/42-Ests.(c), dated the 27th May 1942, needs some modification in the case of railway employees in view of the large number involved. I am to request that if the Provincial Government see no objection, the District officers y o u may kindly be instructed to communicate information about casualties among railway employees direct to certain officers to be specified by the General Managers of Railways concerned, (in the case of staff of the State Railway Coal Department, direct to the Chief Mining Engineer, Calcutta). The General Managers of the Railways are being asked to intimate to Provincial Governments direct the names of officers to whom the information should be supplied by the District officers. Information regarding the total number of casualties among railway servants in any particular area should, however, be supplied to the Civil Defence Department.

2. As regards casualties among the staff of the Railway Board and Central Standards Office, I am to request that the information should as previously proposed be communicated to the Civil Defence Department of the Government of India for transmission to the Railway Department.

Copy of letter No.ARP42CLT/2, dated the 3rd October 1942, from the Government of India, Railway Department (Railway Board), to General Managers, etc., etc.,

----:C:----

Communication to the next-of-kin of casualties due to enemy action among the Railway employees.

Arrangements should be made in advance to collect information about the next-of-kin of all railway employees so that in case of casualties information may be communicated to the person concerned without delay. The collection of this information and arrangements for communication to the next-of-kin cannot be centralised and it is therefore, proposed that each Railway Administration, Chief Mining Engineer, Railway Board, the Chief Controller of Standardisation, and the Director, Railway Clearing Accounts Office, should prescribe suitable authorities under their control, who will be responsible for collecting the required information and for communication to the next-of-kin.

2. The Government of India in the Home Department have asked the Provincial Governments and Chief Commissioners that Provincial District Officers should communicate information about casualties among railway employees direct to the authorities prescribed by Railway Administrations, the Chief Mining Engineer, Railway Board, the Chief Controller of Standardisation and the Director, Railway Clearing Accounts Office.

3. The Railway Board suggest that in the case of gazetted officers the prescribed authority to whom the Provincial District Officers will communicate casualties among railway staff should be the General Manager of the Railway concerned, the Chief Mining Engineer, Railway Board, the Secretary, Railway Board, (in the case of the staff of the office of the Board) the Chief Controller of Standardisation or the Director, Railway Clearing Accounts as the case may be. In the case of subordinates and inferior servants, the Board desire that General Managers of the Railways, Chief Mining Engineer, Railway Board, the Chief Controller of Standardisation and the Director of

Railway

Clearing Accounts Office should nominate an officer for each area, district, division or workshop, to whom information about casualties among railway employees will be communicated by the Provincial District Officer concerned. The names, designations and addresses of such officers should be communicated by the Railway Administrations, Chief Mining Engineer, Railway Board, the Chief Controller of Standardisation and the Director, Railway Clearing Accounts Office, direct to the Provincial Government or to the Chief Commissioner concerned along with the area for which each is responsible. It will be the duty of each of these officers to collect information about the next-of-kin of all railway employees within his area, district, division or workshop and to communicate with those concerned in the event of casualties among railway employees.
